

D'Arcy J. DORNAN, M.A., Ph.D.

Résumé 2009

Sustainable Tourism Geography and Hospitality Planning, Development and Management Specialist

Assistant Director, Tourism and Hospitality Studies

Assistant Professor, Department of Geography

Central Connecticut State University

~ Former Advisor, Commission on American and Francophone Cultural Affairs

~ Vice President, French American Center Advisory Board

~ Board of Directors, Alliance Française de Hartford

Tel: 1 860 832 2782, Fax: 1 860 832 3140

Email: darcy.dornan@gmail.com

Website: <http://www.geography.ccsu.edu/dornan/>

EDUCATION

~ University of California, Davis

Ph.D. Geography, specialization Tourism Development

~ Université de Paris I, La Sorbonne, France

M.A. in Geography

~ San Francisco State University, California

B.A. in Geography/Environmental Studies

~ University of Bristol, England

SUMMARY OF COMPETENCIES

~ Fifteen years of local, regional, and international program and project/program research, marketing, sales, human resources and budgetary management and development.

~ Strong management/leadership, communication, recruitment, retention, career counseling skills.

~ Public, private and non-profit sector experience (capacity building, motivational teaching, research and development, management, monitoring and evaluation).

~ Course, seminar, and workshop instructor

~ Conference and meeting planning.

~ Cross-cultural specialist.

~ Write, publish and disseminate reports and papers via multiple media. Presentation and public speaking skills.

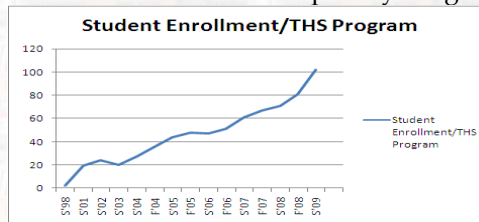

~ Constantly seeking out ways to innovate and improve.

~ Multilingual: French, English, and Portuguese.

SELECT ACCOMPLISHMENTS

Ph.D. Dissertation: "The Linkages between Agriculture, Tourism and Hospitality in Martinique (France)"

CCSU's Tourism and Hospitality Program

Increased enrollment by a factor of three, one million dollars plus in revenue generation annually, multiplied industry contacts, internship and career opportunities.

Grants: National Science Foundation, Fulbright Hayes, Fund for the Improvement of Postsecondary Education (FIPSE – 2006-2010) - U.S.-Brazil Higher Education Consortia Program, University Outreach and International Programs.

Instructor for CCSU's Institute of Technology and Business Development. Career exploration in Finance, Hospitality, Information Technology, and Engineering to New Britain youth (2009).

Designed, developed, marketed and taught workshops in the University of California at Davis Extension's Professional Tourism Development Program -

http://extension.ucdavis.edu/unit/travel_and_tourism/

Faculty Co-chair, organizer, panelist: Inaugural Global Sustainability and Climate Change Symposium ('08, '09)

Supervised several dozen professional and academic internships and independent studies on topics ranging from social networking and e-marketing strategies to hospitality management, to event planning, etc.

Programs/Projects/Products: Tourism geography and hospitality market research, planning, development, e-marketing and management projects/products in California, Brazil (cities of João Pessoa, Florianopolis, and Porto Alegre), France and Martinique (Ph.D. research), and Connecticut (Hartford Tourism Project)

Courses/Workshops: Introduction to Tourism, Tourism Planning, Tourism and Hospitality Industry Management and Forecasting, Wine and Culinary Tourism, Cultural, Heritage, and Historical Tourism, Geography of Tourism

Invited cross-cultural orientation communication specialist, CCSU's Center for International Education international student/study abroad programs ('06-'09).